

Scripted for two people (and an off stage voice). Can be played by either gender. This sketch takes place in an office. A busy executive deals with pressure from his boss to disregard his commitments to home and church.